

Carol Yvette Cooper Williams, M.P.A.

Carol Williams is a seasoned public servant with over 25 years of experience successfully leading teams of professionals within local juvenile justice and social service systems and organizations. She has excelled in providing supervision, program development and implementation, and case management in service to juvenile delinquents and other at-risk children, their families, and the legal community of judges, attorneys, and officers of the courts.

Ms. Williams has received numerous professional accolades and promotions in lieu of her service to: the 31st District Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court of Manassas, VA; the Virginia Department of Juvenile Justice; the 31st District Court Services Unit of Manassas, VA; the Prince William County Department of Social Service/Residential Services Division; and the Prince William County and City of Manassas, VA schools. Her implementation of the juvenile delinquent rehabilitation program called The Expectations Program was applauded by community leaders, the local legal community, and the American Bar Association in Virginia for its commitment to and focus on redirection for juvenile offenders.

In 2010, Ms. Williams completed the renowned International Public Safety Leadership and Ethics Institute (IPSLEI) Phi Theta Kappa leadership program and subsequently became a certified facilitator. As part of her certification, she was selected to assist with leadership training for employees at every level of Prince William County, VA government.

Ms. Williams has a bachelor's degree in Social Science with a minor in Humanities from Charleston Southern University in Charleston, SC. She has a Master of Public Administration degree from George Mason University in Fairfax, VA. In addition, Ms. Williams has certifications in Organizational Leadership and Management from Mary Washington University in Stafford, VA, and Continuous Quality Improvement from Prince William County, VA.

Ms. Williams believes in the embodiment of leadership within her personal and professional lives and enjoys sharing her knowledge and enthusiasm of IPSLEI's leadership principles with her three children as well as anyone who desires to understand principled-centered, ethical, and effective, leadership-in-practice.
